

Clumps Game

GOAL: To be one of the last two remaining students.

How To Play:

This is a great game to play anytime of the year and is easy to explain and play. Students walk around the room and mingle (think musical chairs) as the “mix it up” music plays. When the music stops, someone shouts a number between 2-10. Students must quickly get into “clumps” in the number that is called out (Example: when “4” is called, students must get into clumps of 4). Note: The last person to the clump has to find another clump.

Students who cannot find a clump, or form one of their own, are out. For example: if the clump number is 6, and there are 3 students left over, they are out. Continue this process until there are only 2 people left. Those 2 are the winners.
