

OUTREACH ALTERNATIVES

The main opportunity to share the Gospel through First Priority is during INVITE-Week, where students invite friends to hear about Jesus and respond in faith. But what can you do if people don't accept your invitation to the club meeting?

- The first step is to ask God if there's a specific group you should reach out to this month. Plan the club week with them in mind and invite them to learn about Jesus.

For example, you could invite a Christian college basketball player to share the Gospel and then invite the basketball team.

- The second step is to serve that group in some way.
- Finally, if you feel God urging you to share the Good News of Jesus with a group, you could consider bring your FP meeting to them one month.

The page below outlines a 3-step process for a successful outreach, which involves answering three key questions. Please remember: follow God's guidance! These are just suggestions. Ask God to show you who in your school is lost and seeking. First Priority suggests moving an outreach outside of club time no more than once a semester.
